MISS JOAN GRIGGS . . . . . Yearbook Advisor
ANNE BARKSDALE and GARY MEEKS . . . . . Business Co-Editors
CARL RHODES . . . . . Editor-in-Chief

To the right of this column is a photograph of John Motley Morehead High School—your high school. As you turn the pages of this yearbook, you will see that the Carillon staff has endeavored to record all the facets of life at Morehead. We have tried to turn back Time and let you see all the wonderful things that happened during one of Morehead High School's greatest years. Think about the events of the period, and you will determine whether we have done our task well.

There are too few lines to mention every person who has aided us in our work; however, I do think that a vote of appreciation is due to these individuals in particular: Mr. Raleigh Biggerstaff, whose thoughtful suggestions and comments have been most helpful in our layout work; Messrs. Claude Gillie and Harold Francis, whose skill and patience in photographing the yearbook snapshots have made the Carillon more complete; Frances Hairfield and Carolyn Newman, who typed and corrected our annual copy; Lloyd Dillon, whose splendid art work you will see throughout the Carillon; and Miss Joan Griggs, our yearbook advisor, who worked harder than anyone on the many problems we encountered. Without the splendid work that all these people did, I would have given up long ago. My thanks go out to all who have taken an interest in the Carillon. You, the students, deserve a vote of appreciation, because if you had not achieved such an outstanding scholastic and athletic year, our yearbook would be nothing. Use this yearbook in the future years to recall the work you did and the fun you had during 1958-59, Morehead's greatest year.

Morehead High School

Our Purpose . . .

The sophomore enters Morehead High School with a purpose—to seek and flourish in all his high school life. He does not recognize this purpose, until the upperclassmen point it out by their example. As the sophomore begins to fit into life at Morehead, he begins to try to do his best; he matures as he is called upon to face new problems and perform new tasks. The year passes quickly, and the sophomore becomes a junior—and then a senior. He then imparts his influence on the lowerclassmen and points out the purpose—it is always the same—seek and flourish. This is the tradition at Morehead, and because of this tradition, our student body has been the recipient of many honors, both scholastic and athletic. Through this tradition, the individual student receives not only knowledge of subject matter, but knowledge of life in the world today and preparation for it.

We Dedicate . . .

The Senior Class proudly dedicates the 1959 edition of the Carillon to a man who is at home either in the classroom or on the athletic field. Many seniors remember his history classes, and many also remember his "writs," too! His ability to make us think and draw conclusions from what we read helped us to enjoy social studies much more. He is the man who molded our Panther linemen into one of the best gridiron forward walls in the state, a big factor in Morehead's 1958 Class AA championship. He also coaches girls' basketball and assist in baseball. To MR. MOTT PRICE, for making our life at Morehead much happier, we dedicate the '59 Carillon.

Mr. Price uses a map in one of his U.S. History lectures.

Dodo Davis and Daphne Fair take basketball warmup exercises under Mr. Price's direction.

Leadership

Mrs. Minnie Hinternhoff, guidance counselor, advises Carl Rhodes and Charles Ferguson about planning their college careers.

We students at Morehead High School are fortunate in having such an outstanding faculty group. All our teachers are well-trained in their respective fields; however, a student does not learn pure facts alone, because our staff members take a personal interest in each student. As one of our teachers said, "I have learned that a good teacher has to be everything from a dictionary to a love counselor." They have dedicated themselves to our service, and each of us should give them a vote of thanks as they strive to seek and flourish in all phases of leadership.

Scholarship

Students use the large Morehead library as a source of factual information and reading pleasures.

Through the efforts of the faculty and through the examples set by many honor students, the Morehead High School student body had an over-all high scholastic average. With seek and flourish as their motto, they worked hard to prepare themselves for graduation and the tasks beyond. This year the students have really teamed as they backed our athletic teams and helped support fund-raising drives. Congratulations to the Classes of '61, '60 and '59 for making this year Morehead's greatest!

Mr. Nassar,
 you are a hard-task man.
 But I still like you.
 You are a fine man

 I have kept up with them.
 You take care

 "Habit"

Seniors enjoy their final year at Morehead High School as they work and play together for the last time. Highlighted by the Jr.-Sr. banquet and dance, the candy sale, the Senior Prom, the Senior Trip, and graduation, the senior year at Morehead is one to remember always.

As college prep, business, general, and vocational students work on their separate subjects, they are bonded together by the name senior, those who are about to reach an important milestone—graduation.

For the Junior, his year is filled with two main projects: The Magazine Sale, a fund-raising drive; and the Junior-Senior Banquet and Dance, sponsored by the Juniors and financed by the sale of magazines.

A Junior's course of study varies, as some take plane geometry and chemistry in preparation for college, and business students begin shorthand and typewriting.

Juniors are Morehead's happiest group because their Sophomore year is behind them and they look forward to their greatest year—as seniors.

Sophomores

Sophomores take a little time in getting familiar with the building layout and class schedules; however, after about two weeks, they settle down to begin senior high school work. Sophomores begin at once to branch out as students contemplating college take Algebra II and history, and business students start business math and typewriting. But all sophomores are alike in one respect: they are required to take biology. After getting used to the aroma of formaldehyde, sophomores look ahead to the next level of work as juniors.

Stewardship

Dickie Kelly and Jimmy Gilbert prepare the school pictures for distribution.

Organizations at Morehead have their purpose—to seek and flourish in stewardship. Through various projects, they perform school services such as College Day, Career Day, and other special events. Each club has a faculty advisor who has knowledge of the club's field of interest. The organizations at Morehead provide hours of interesting participation for students, and gives them an opportunity to follow their interests more extensively.

ORGANIZATIONS

National Honor Society

OFFICERS

Dick Powell, President; Henry Smith, Vice-President; Linda Patterson, Secretary; and D. C. Gilley, Treasurer.

The National Honor Society is an organization whose members are in the top scholastic percentage in their respective classes. Members are selected in an impressive tapping ceremony and chosen by their good traits of scholarship, character, service, and leadership.

The Honor Society, whose advisor is Miss Faye Roberts, this year sponsors the Honor Society Tea for honor roll members, and Social Standards Day, which provides students with an opportunity to learn more about their chosen vocation.

Student Council

The Student Council is made up of representatives elected by the student body. Ably led by Mr. Odell Nassar, advisor; and Norman Blackwell, president; the Student Council serves the school by directing the lunch lines and assembly procedure. The Student Council also sells Morehead "State Champ" plates and sponsors a dance.

North Carolina State AA Champions, yes, that is the proud title that the Black Panthers of Morehead High have earned for themselves during the 1958 gridiron season.

The long struggle began back in the hot broiling sun of August, when the Panthers reported to practice. The town had prepared itself for another mediocre season, but the Panthers had other ideas.

Joe Crowder and Frank Campbell, two boys who wouldn't give up until they had won, were elected co-captains.

The season was filled with many new spectacles: the Panthers, with Ogburn at quarterback, for the first time were a passing threat, the three C's were becoming a local legend, and the Morehead defense was unsurpassed.

The Panthers went through the regular season undefeated, with at least one Panther being placed on the all-state checklist each week.

In the first game of the play-offs, the Panthers coasted to an easy win over West Mecklenburg. Now it was time for the true test; Canton, the team favored to win the title, was to be faced. The Panthers met and defeated them and yet there were those who still doubted that Morehead would go all the way. The Panthers had the leadership, the determination, and the man power. Thanksgiving Day will long be remembered in the Tri-Cities because on that Day in 1958 the Morehead Black Panthers once again went to the field of battle. The foe this time was a powerhouse from the eastern part of the state. They were known as the "Rockets," but it was no day for launching a missile; instead the 6,000 fans braved the cold to watch the Panthers growl.

It was a long season but the people of this area are proud of the Panthers and they will always remember them as—The Champs.

Craig and Mt. Airy's Hamlin scrap for a rebound.

The Black Panthers, defending AA Champs, had rough going this year as they failed to gather enough steam. Craig, Hall, and Blackwell provided the big scoring punches for Morehead. Finishing in a second-place tie for the conference, the Panthers handed Mt. Airy one of the Bears' two defeats.

Taking third place in the conference tourney, the Panthers entered the District AA playoffs with a 14-9 total record.

I have really enjoyed being in your classes for the past 2 years - even though you make us work.
Good luck to you and thanks a

Acc,

I've really enjoyed being in your class this year. You've been a great friend as well as a teacher, even though you do fuss at ~~me~~ at times! I think that you have been the ideal teacher in every way.

I never got to know you until this year and I wouldn't trade the memories for anything.

Mr. Nassar, don't worry about me. I have friends now that I wouldn't give up for anything and I promise that I'll not get in the "rut" again, because I like being happy.

I hope that your future will be filled with happiness and if you wouldn't be so choicy - maybe you will be married this time next year. <sup>He!</sup> Thanks for everything.

"Aa"
I have really enjoyed being in your Basic Business class although

you gave me a rough time.
But I guess I gave you
a rough time too!
Be sweet and I'll always remember you!

May God Bless You,
Love ya!

Linda Horton ("Chubby")

"Aa",
Well, I think I am about to get out of for this trip at this time and I don't school at last! I want to tell you that I have really enjoyed having you for a homeroom teacher, Basic Business, and Shortland II. I have really had a lot of good times in all of your classes. I will really miss you after I finish school and I will always think of you. God bless you always!

Love,
Brenda Barrett

"Aa"
you are one in a million. I shall never forget all the help you have given me when I had problems.
you are the main reason I came back to school. I knew with a teacher like you behind me I could do it, and I did!!
Thanks to you. I shall always remember you Mr. Nasser for all you have done for me.

Love,

Mr. Nassar,

I remember the first time I ever saw you - I was scared to death of you. Then last year when I found out that I was in your Basic Business Class I became panicky. Well, I soon changed my mind. You're really my idea of a perfect teacher. This school just wouldn't be complete without you. You're a MUST!!

I hope that in the near future you will achieve all the success and happiness possible, for I don't know of a more deserving person.

I hope that I didn't get on your nerves too much this year and that you won't forget all about me + my "sister" after graduation.

As always,

Ann

Mr. Teacher (Hallywood)

Boy you're quite a character as well as a teacher. I can truly say that I have really enjoyed you and your crazy antics. You are one in a million. I don't think I could have made it through this year without you. You're a part of this school that I hope never ends.
Because you're so understanding.

Boy I'm really going to miss all this next year. Please don't you forget to remember us. just a little bit.

Always be as sweet as you are right now and you'll always have friends! (I'm hungry)

I want to see the girl you marry! well... Becca

Unc,

How have you stood me for a whole year? I hope you haven't gotten too mad at us for "playing". But you have much more fun playing than working.

You are really a "Kitty" teacher. You have "learned" me a lot this year. I didn't think you could stand me for 2 periods a day, but I see you did.

Seriously, you are the best Teacher I have had in all my twelve years in school. (I really mean this.)
